

Welsbach Electric Corp.,
a subsidiary of EMCOR Group, Inc., is one of the largest electrical contractors in New York City.

Where there's diversity, there's opportunity.

More than just good business practice, at Welsbach we see diversity as a responsibility to our communities on a broad level, and to our local vendors on a personal level. We're honored to help minority, women, and disadvantaged business owners participate in the procurement process.

Welsbach is committed to diversity.

We take diversity very seriously. Many of our customers require business enterprises to show they are certified, and they know Welsbach goes above and beyond to deliver the proper MWDBE documentation. We are always doing our best to increase awareness of this success-focused program.

Why Welsbach? An Overview.

- » Committed to M/W/DBE
- » Recruitment and outreach to certified vendors
- » Keeping local workers working
- » Benefits Welsbach clients, workers, entire community
- » Opportunity for minority, women and disadvantaged business owners
- » Help customers meet their contractual obligations

We recently created the Welsbach MWDBE Portal. This Portal will be integral for consideration in future bidding opportunities. Please take a moment to register, create a profile, and upload your MWDBE certificates at your earliest convenience. The Portal may be found at this link:
